PERFECT PAIRINGS!

QUIVIRA
Sauvignon Blanc

750 ml.

Quivira is one of the early Sonoma producers to commit fully to biodynamic farming and treat the land as a living system rather than a yield equation. Their Sauvignon Blanc is an honest and reliable benchmark for the appellation. Bright and zippy with grapefruit, lemon zest, and that grassy-herbal edge that the variety lives for, with just enough texture to keep it grown up. Dry Creek's warm days and cool nights show through in the freshness.

ARNOT ROBERTS
Trousseau

750 ml.

Pouring a beautiful pale ruby in the glass, the color alone suggests a delicate, supple experience. With an old world, terroir driven approach, the ancient volcanic soil and loamy earth evoke graceful aromas of blood orange zest with soft red fruit on the palate and delicate tannins. Marked by surprising nuance and complexity as this wine seems to lend itself to any food you throw at it.
